IN MEMORIAM

The Class of '93 would like to honor Mr. Paul Rocheleau, a man who will be greatly missed and remembered for years to come. During the summer of 1992, Mr. Rocheleau suffered a massive coronary stroke and passed away at the age of fifty.

Mr. Rocheleau graduated from Salem State College with his Bachelor's and Master's degrees. He entered the Littleton school system in 1966 as a business teacher. This was only the beginning of this man's numerous accomplishments. While at Littleton, he set up a simulated office in order to allow his students to experience a real office setting, introduced computerized accounting, established a business club, and served as chairman of the Business department. In class, Mr. Rocheleau was a very strict man earning the respect of his students. He was also a tender man, one whom students felt close enough to share their problems with. Fishing and traveling were but two of the passions which he enjoyed discussing with students and faculty members alike.

Mr. Rocheleau was dedicated to his family, to his community, and to his profession. Throughout his career with us here at LHS, he was loved by everyone and will be sorely missed. The Class of '93 offers his family our sincere sympathy and love.

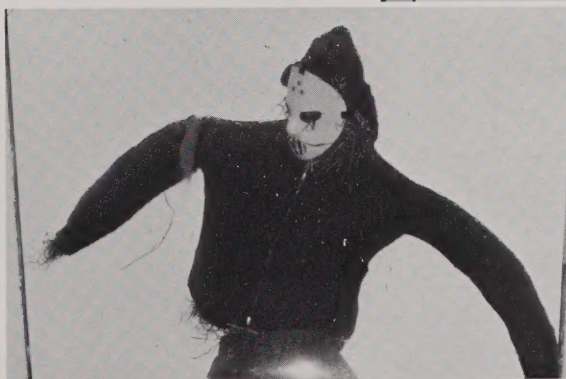

Breaking the Mold. How could forty-seven students, Littleton's Class of 1993, break the mold? The truth is, we've been doing it for a long time. When the schools were reorganized four years ago, we came here as the first eighth grade class in over 15 years. We're the first graduating class in recent history that spent part of junior high school here.

Our originality and spirit have come through in many ways over the past five years. We sponsored the first ever "Mr. LHS Pageant." Some of the great-looking hunks in our class bravely "strutted their stuff" on stage, making a lot of money for our treasury. Members of our class, late one night, inverted a skylite over the cafeteria and filled it with live goldfish. A week before school started this year, the Spirit Rock in front of the school was mysteriously buried...hmm, who could have been responsible?

There are some ways we broke the mold that we'd like to forget. This year we became the first senior class in memory not to win the Sp9irit Pumpkin at the Homecoming Pep Rally - the forty seven of us couldn't shout as loudly as classes twice our size! That is another way we break the mold: our size. We're one of the smallest graduating classes at Littleton.

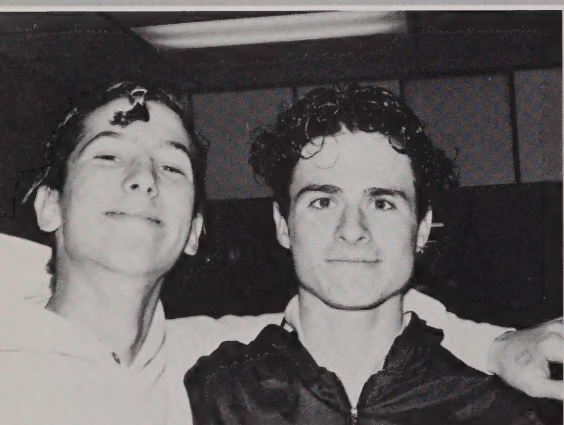

But we've discovered over the past five years that our small numbers is a great advantage. We've grown as a close knit group of friends but have each kept our own individuality. Now as we say good-bye and leave to whatever the future holds for us, we'll all in the future, individually, find a way to break the mold.

Mr. LHS

Who is the perfect guy at LHS? Several of Littleton's finest tried their best at this spoof contest last spring. The teachers who judged the contestants weighed many factors including formal wear, swimsuits, and the way a variety of questions were answered. There was also a talent section of the contest that the Class of '93 sponsored. Throughout the night, Jon McCumber, Dan Kuja, and Rob Kiyabu provided entertainment as they jammed between sections of the show. Genny Butler and Emily Knee kept the night going as they hosted the event. In the end, Grant Duston, with his hilarious antics, was named "King" of Littleton High.

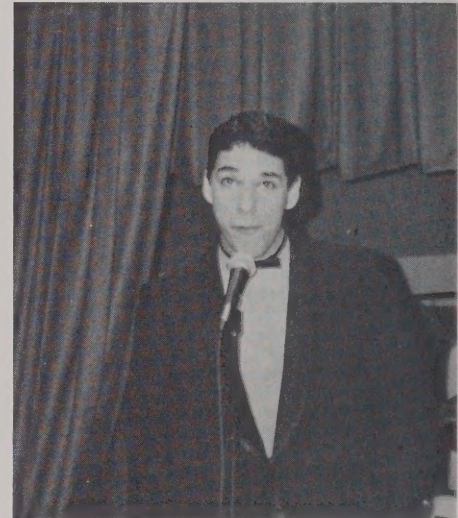

Talent Show

Last March many gathered together to show off their specialties at the annual LHS Talent Show. The auditorium buzzed with anticipation of Mike Swords' band and Jon McCumber's too. Everyone was captivated by Erin Feeney and Cheryl Hurley's portrayal of "I'm Growing Hungry." Arne Olsen and John Hathaway each displayed their amazing piano talents. The night was alive with singing, dancing, and fun.

European Vacations

Spain! What a place to be! The six hour flight was an unwelcome start, as we dealt with the stewards, but once we arrived it was well worth it. Barcelona, Montserrat, Cordoba, Sevilla, Granada, Toledo, Madrid - so much fun in the sun! The night life proved to be much more than we had even imagined. We danced the night away in the discotech. Many of us even joined in with the natives as we tried the steps of a folk dance in Barcelona. We gained a better understanding of Spanish literature and of good drinking water, too. We also had a chance to squeeze in a visit to the World Expo '92, in Sevilla.

All the traveling by bus or by train seems to be the only way that we got rest, since we didn't sleep much elsewhere. Meanwhile, we made a lot of friends from another group from New Jersey, with whom we toured the country. All our special thanks to Mrs. Moran and Mr. and Mrs. Upson for making the ten day trip so memorable. Spain will never be forgotten.

ALSG.....This your wake-up call. Izzy- the best tour guide ever-and the the students of Littleton High took Europe by storm. Traveling from Holland which smelled gross to Germany where some of us experienced a rather different kind of Easter mass onto Switzerland where we yodeled and spit out the windows then to France where we snuck onto the subways without paying, we finally ended up in England where we sang with the Blues Brothers. This 10 day trip was one which Mrs. Clark and Mr. Annaldo will never forget. Through all the rain, waiting and walking, we made it back to the good old U.S.A.! Thank you for everything Mrs. Clark! Let's do it again.

Prom

Josh Mansfield - enough said.

Dancing 'til the break of dawn
To "Wonderful Tonight," the prom theme song.
On the dance floor we were packed real tight,
But still we managed to have a great night.

The guys in their tuxes looked really fly
With paislies and polka-dots on their bow ties.
Pat wore his shorts and Josh wore a hat.
And Grant's white jacket - what'd you think of that?

Everyone stared at the girls in their dresses
With their make-up and jewelry and freshly done tresses.
Colleen chose red and Leigh wore bows.
From flowers to satin - anything goes.

The room at White Cliffs was decorated with care,
Flowers on each table and balloons in the air.
We were all entertained as we waited for our meals
By Antoine and Miguel - were those waiters for real?

"Brown-Eyed Girl" was never fully played.
All the Morrison fans were truly dismayed.
Sue's stack of glasses lasted only a while,
But watching it fall made everyone smile.

"Bohemian Rhapsody" was the song to dance to.
And of course the "Electric Slide," which everybody knew.
We all went crazy to "Blister in the Sun,"
And then mellowed out to the last slow song, "One."

Laura Demetrick and Dan Tervo were the best,
The Queen and the King stood out from the rest.
Anna Allen, Lisa Swanson, and Liz Dixon too,
And also Kristen Kenney - the court as we knew.

When the clock struck twelve the night was still young.
Though the prom was all over we had plans for more fun.
We went off to parties and then to the shore,
But no one was driving between one and four.

Well, that's the end of our little rhyme.
As you can see, we all had a wonderful time.
The class of '93 knows how to throw a bash,
Thank God we were able to raise all the cash!

Emily Knee and Dave Durkin enjoy a wonderful night.

Ken Hamm struts his stuff for the judges in the King's March.

Sports

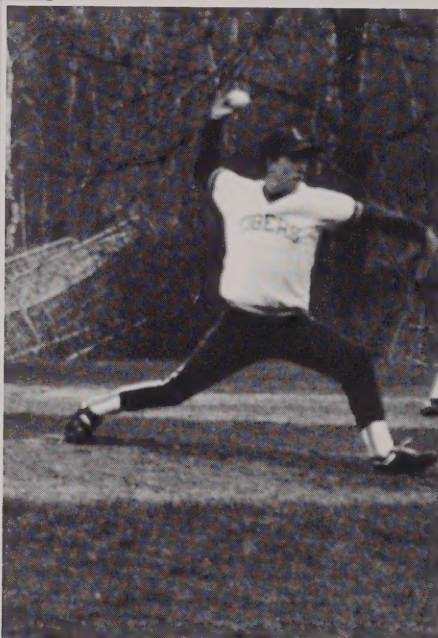

Baseball

Stephen Panish drives the ball into play.

The '92 varsity baseball team played a tough season this year. With no senior players, varsity was dominated by underclassmen, and JV by seventh and eighth graders. Youth and inexperience certainly became a factor, the varsity finished 2-16 overall, and the JV an impressive 9-5. The talent is definitely brewing in the baseball program. As these young men gain more experience through the years, the "win" column should increase and Tiger baseball will again be a competitive force. Although the team's placement was a disappointment, the team boasted 2 League All-Stars - Co-captains Ken Hamm and Jason Pierce (Honorable Mention). Head Coach Fred Fitzpatrick will look to these 2 players to lead the '93 varsity team to a better season.

Softball

Mandy Bulger winds up another strike.

A new coach, longer practices, more discipline, numerous good luck rituals and still the '92 Varsity Softball team could not pull up their win column. They finished 2-15-1. Although the Tigers had practiced their hearts out, they were just not able to execute on the game field. Confidence proved to be a major factor which kept the varsity down, especially as the losses mounted up. Even though the JV and Junior High teams also finished with discouraging records, 2-14 and 1-7 respectively, the future shows a spark of light with a huge interest forming at the junior high level. The earlier good softball skills can be learned, the better the varsity softball team will fair in the future.

Jasmine McArthur waits for the pitch.

Track

Pat McQuaid, Littleton's best high-jumper, tries for a record during a meet.

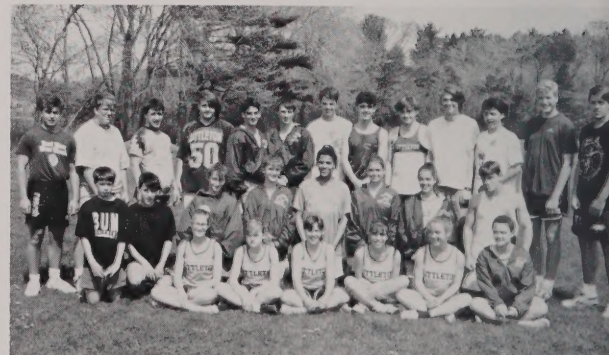

This past year's track season was filled with aches and pains as well as laughs and victories. With practice 10 hours per week and running 7-10 miles per day, some of the aches definitely started to show up, but pushing through showed us to be one of the stronger (although smaller) teams. As we proved our strength, we proved our determination, not giving up in any situation, even in the sleet and snow at the Maynard meet. Then through the clouds came the sun and with the sun came pool runs to PJ's, Lance's relays, free food (and Willard Scott) from Burger King, and distance trips to Kimball's. We sent 3 runners, a relay team, and 2 high-jumpers to districts where Pat McQuaid took second place, and then stole another second place at states in the high-jump overall competition. All in all, the '92 team was able to walk away, not only with a great feeling of accomplishment, but also a sense of pride.

Joanna Kotze easily clears the bar for another successful jump.

V. Team: (front l-r) Sarah McGrath, Melissa Benjamin, Michelle Toft, Abbe Knee, Kerry McDonald, Lisa Winner. Tennis & Golf

Heather Dennehy and Julie Tratnyek take a break from the court.

The '92 tennis team played a lot of hard tennis, especially in their matches against Nashoba Regional and Hudson. Although they didn't do as well as they had hoped on the scoreboards, they had a lot of laughs. Some memories will stay with them forever, like the win over Clinton, the bus ride talks, songs on the bus, and the bus drivers (go around the bleachers!!). The '92 tennis team was very young, but had a lot of potential and skill that should be the foundation of a shining tennis team in the future. This year the girls tennis team gave one hundred percent and never got down on themselves. They were rewarded with some fun and very memorable times and the promise of a great season next year.

Heather Dennehy focuses on the ball.

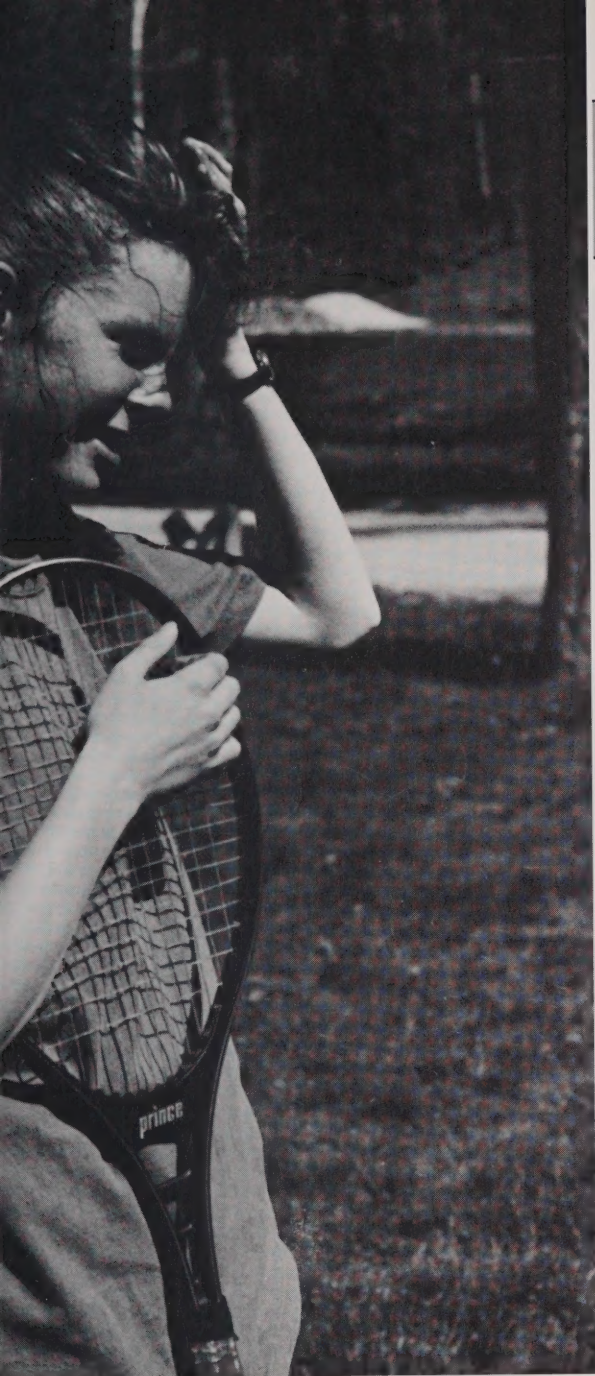

Golf this year was really swell!! The team came together to hone their ability and develop new strengths in the game. This season was not the best in the "wins" category, but far exceeding that fact is the great sense of camaraderie and support from all members of the team. Memories of the '92 season will always be present at the course, with all the balls hit into the water hazard and the school, as well as all the divits we put in the hall rugs! The team left its mark everywhere! We look forward to the next season and encourage ANYONE with a sturdy set of clubs to join up. - Written by a member of the golf team

Tennis isn't all hard work: Jen Lally and Kate Carson.

Dave Durkin, # 85, battles a Maynard opponent.

It takes teamwork to pull this opponent down.

Boys Soccer

Goalie Mike Hayes puts the ball back into play.

After a loss of 10 graduating seniors from the league- champion varsity team of '91, the boys varsity soccer team was bound to experience some difficulty in rebuilding a competitive team. (They finished 2-8-2 overall.) Although this year's team was young and relatively inexperienced, the team always played a hard game and never gave up. As senior players PJ Beagen and Jon McCumber comment, "Although the '92 season wasn't the best, we're still the best team from east to west." Hopefully the experience gained in these years will allow for a future as good and even better than the past. - "Good Luck next season!" From PJ, Jon, and Bran

Senior soccer players PJ Beagen, Jon McCumber, and Brandon Rigoli proudly display the championship banner that the boys varsity soccer team earned for the '91 season.

Scott Allyn skillfully handles the ball.

Dave Slarskey battles an opponent to keep the ball clear of the Littleton net.

Girls Soccer

The team listens to a half time pep talk from Coach Jodi Brush.

The '92 season was a disappointing one for this year's girls varsity soccer team. After high hopes for state competition, the team finished 2-14. Despite a discouraging season on-field, the team enjoyed an excellent season off-field. Bus rides, world cuppie, pasta parties, the fuzzy pink troll at Burger King, and the Maynard game were among the highlights. The team looks forward to a better season in '93, but will lose eight seniors : Genny Butler, Laura Demetrick, Liz Dixon, Leigh Dungey, Sandy Johnson, Kristen Melander, Nancy Murdock, and Kira Panish. But with seventeen returning veterans and a strong interest at the JV level, the girls varsity soccer team can look forward to a brighter future.

Laura Demetrick positions herself to make a pass.

The field hockey team gets psyched before a big game.

Apple pie fights, mud sliding, head banging to Jack and Diane, and redecorating locker rooms are some of the many things which one would not expect from a field hockey team. The '92 season was definitely one which none of us will forget. Like any other it had its ups and downs. We started from scratch, only few of us having played on varsity before. Through weeks and weeks of dribble weaving and suicides (can we do relays instead?), we began to pull it all together. We don't know if it was the prayer before the game or the amount of support we had for each other but the result was a successful season. This year the so-called "GENERIC" Tigers didn't make the states, but next year we're there! We'll get you Levine! Where's Russel? Thanx Mr. Silva and Ann Lee! We'll miss ya B!

Boys Basketball

Littleton guards its basket.

Tremendous dedication on the part of the '92-'93 Tigers varsity boys basketball team helped to offset a losing record. Facing a grueling twenty game schedule, the varsity began practicing for two hours a day, seven days a week. They were rewarded for their efforts by placing second in the Christmas tournament. This year's team attitude, that hard work and playing with heart will make up for lack of height and overall experience, will change in the years to come as the majority of the young talent on the team will return. However, Jason Pierce and Ken Hamm, the two graduating seniors, will be sorely missed.

Girls Basketball

Kelly McGrath dives for the ball.

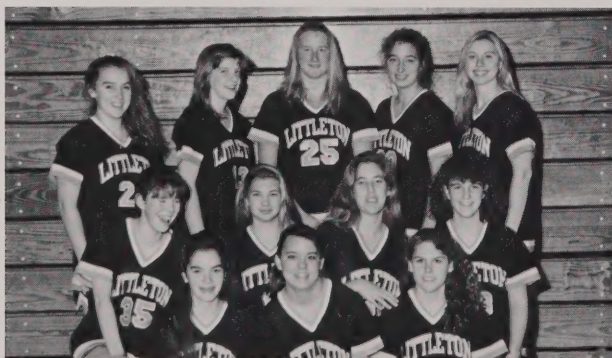

The Girl's Varsity Basketball Team had a different beginning to their season. Not only did the team have a new coach but the first game of the season ended with a win for the Lady Tigers. Thanks to Coach Petrides, the girls were able to end the season with a number in the win column. They will always remember the wins against Monty Tech and Notre Dame as the highlights of this season, wins that were long overdue.

The team consisted of 1 eighth grader, 2 sophomores, 4 juniors, and 4 seniors. They returned with 4 starters from last season. Genny Butler, Sandy Johnson, and Kristen Melander were chosen to give the team a little extra guidance and leadership as captains. With a solid foundation, the girls are looking forward to next year. The four seniors wish next year's team the best of luck.

Wrestling

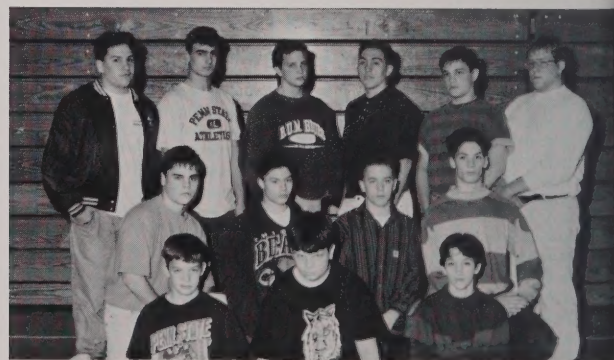

Shawn Maguire stretches out before the competition.

With only eight varsity wrestlers to fill thirteen weight classes, the Tigers wrestling team still managed to shut out Nashoba Tech and Leominster. The only factor that kept the '92-'93 squad from having a winning record was the number of times that they were forced to forfeit. Their daily 3 hour practices, consisting of a 3 mile run, 275 push ups, 400 sit ups, and 50-100 hit-its, enabled members of the team to rack up a number of individual wins. Next year, although a number of experienced wrestlers will return, senior captains Eric Bottenhorn and Dave Adams will be hard to replace.

Appreciation

The Class of 1993 has had the benefit of two wonderful advisors - Dr. Moran and Miss Richard. Together, they have helped us in many ways. They were instrumental in the success of the first ever Mr. LHS pageant. During the Fall of 1991 they took shifts during the homecoming football game to oversee our yard sale. In addition, they helped organize the selling of chocolate Santa's and Easter bunnies during the holiday seasons. These fundraisers were very profitable due to their efforts. The prom was a great success and we couldn't have done it without them. They tirelessly help meetings and made phone calls on our behalf. Their patience with a class of diverse tastes has not gone unnoticed. These two women have enriched and advanced our class for the last four years. We will miss them greatly and wish them success in the future.

The class of 93 has experienced the first year of their high school being a school of Global Studies. The existing curriculum remained much the same but each class was enhanced by activities with a global perspective.

The program change was initiated by Superintendent Franco and Mr. Walker in response to the advent of school choice and to implement the recent recommendations of the accreditation review board. The report had suggested that Littleton Jr.-Sr. High School was capable of taking the extra step of developing interdisciplinary teaching units among all subject areas. The choice aspect seems fruitful as quite a few students from area communities have enrolled at LJSHS.

A Program Planning Committee was organized to conceptualize and implement the program. It was made up of department heads, a representative from the foreign languages, Mrs. Blair representing the library, Ms. Richardson (chairperson), representing the special subject areas, Mr. Walker, and Mr. Franco. Clark University provided help and information. Staff members attended several workshops on early release days.

Five goals guided the decision-making processes:

1. An understanding and appreciation of world culture.
2. An understanding of our natural world, our dependence on and interaction with it
3. An appreciation for the multicultural nature of American heritage and society.
4. A humanitarian awareness enabling students to perceive their responsibilities as members of the global community.
5. An awareness of the parallels, differences, and interconnectedness between ourselves and other cultures from a variety of cultural, political, scientific, technological, and historical perspectives.

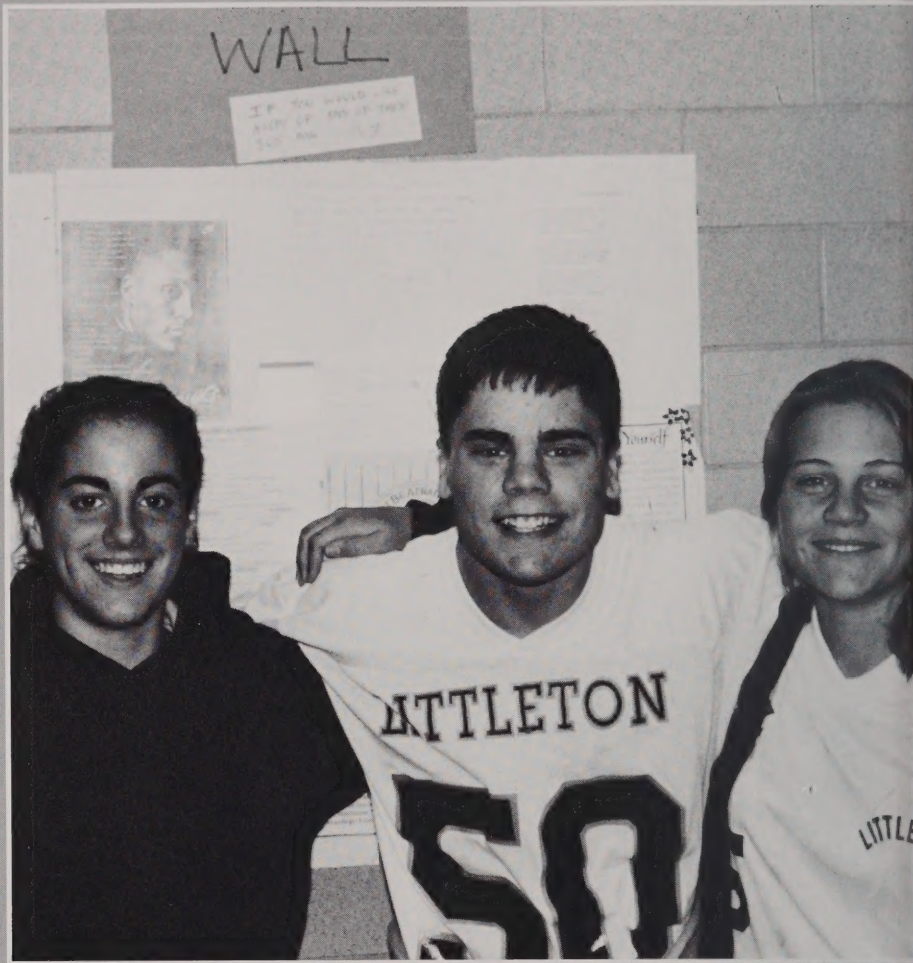

The physical appearance of the school has also been improved to reflect the global theme. On the exterior wall over the auditorium there is a mural designed by Nathan Cantino of the class of '94. Inside the cafeteria and lobby there are maps of the world. The large end corridor displays overhead flags from many of the countries that have sent us foreign exchange students over the years.

Future classes have much to look forward to as the world is brought into LJSHS and the students go out into the world.

Jimi Fayemiwo shows the studious side of the seventh grade class.

The seventh grade class started the year in the Jr/Sr High School with excitement. We soon learned our way around. The Big Sister/Big Brother Day really helped. Upperclassmen showed us around the school and exchanged names and locker numbers with us. We went out for the fall sports in record numbers. For the first time we had foreign languages. In French we made Christmas cards, in Russian we watched Russian cartoons and movies, and in Spanish we did cross word puzzles. Tech Ed was also new to us. We made different wooden baskets. We went to see "A Christmas Carol" with the English classes. We did a magazine drive and received prizes. One of the new prizes this year was a limo lunch - which was being picked up at school and taken to Burger King or McDonald's in a limo. We had our first dance with the eighth graders in December. It was pretty exciting and we got into the hang of it. The seventh graders have had a fun first year at Littleton Jr/Sr High School and are looking forward to another great year.

We made it through another year at the Jr/Sr High School, but this was our last year as junior high schoolers. At graduation this year, we will enter the ranks of freshmen knowing that we have left our mark on the junior high school. We have many memories which we will look back on often, to remember the good times we shared. As a result of School Choice, we have many new friends. We hope they like it here and will stay with us for years to come. We have accomplished a lot this year. As a prize from the successful magazine drive, many of us enjoyed a limo-lunch ride. We also tried to save a few endangered animals and had fun at our many dances. As we embark on our journey through high school we will always fondly remember our years in junior high.

This year will be looked back upon by the Class of '96 for many reasons: the year that we, as Freshmen, won the spirit pumpkin at the Thanksgiving pep rally, for having the loudest chants; the year that our athletes continued to show hope for the future sports program with strong varsity performers in fall and winter sports such as football, soccer, field hockey, wrestling, and basketball; the year that our Freshman football team was "world beaters"; and the year that Stevie and Amanda finally started going out. We made our mark and announced our arrival from the Junior High to the Senior High. We encountered many new things when we arrived: Algebra, Geometry, World Geography, Biology, and a guy named... Shakespeare? We were given more privileges, like picking our own classes, attending Sr. High functions and dances such as the Cotillion, and electing a homecoming court member (congratulations Jen Mims). We've lost classmates to other schools, but we've also welcomed many new students into our class. I'd like to thank our two excellent class advisors, Mr. Legault and Ms. Marsh, and our class officers, Jen Mims, Tim Bove, Greg Bottenhorn, and Denis Collins, for organizing successful fund raisers and developing an early, strong treasury...

This year the sophomore class had to grow up faster than any other class. For the first time many of us had to face a cycle of death, mourning, happiness, and closeness to each other that was new.

Everyone felt the losses of Mr. Rocheleau and Kristy Hartwell. Mr. Rocheleau was a very well liked and kind teacher. He had also been one of our class advisors. His advice and help guided us through last year and broke us into what we had to face.

Kristy Hartwell was a member of our class and a deeply loved friend. Her death caused heartache and suffering for many. This unfortunate tragedy not only caused us to pull together, but also made many people grow. Although her name isn't often spoken, the memory of Kristy is in many people's hearts. She will always be missed and never be forgotten. We love you, Kristy.

Although we had to deal with many painful things, we also accomplished a lot together to make our table at the bazaar one of a kind. Together we made many things such as a quilt, wreaths, choo-choo trains, and many other crafty things. Thanks everyone!

Thanks to Mrs. Holt and Mrs. Coburn for a great year as our advisors. Thanks also to the Class of "95". You couldn't ask for a better class.

As I sit here in January trying to write an article that won't see print until June, I realize that it is very difficult in our high school world to choose a topic (to be put in a book that will be kept for years to come) with any lasting relevance. Also, since this is a yearbook, whatever topic that is chosen needs to include memories from this year. Easier said than done. This early in the year, it is hard to say what will happen next. So, I will have to ask you to use your memories for the following "typical" yearbook topics: the Prom (which I am unable to write about due to the fact that it is scheduled for Spring, and that its very existence at this point is in doubt), School Sports (some wounds need not be opened), and Spirit Week (about which I felt that, due to the uncertainty of the outcome of this year's events, writing a long-winded paragraph on the fact that we kicked butt last year would be in poor taste if things went differently this year.) Peace.

C L A S S W I L L

I, Dave Adams, leave nothing; you want something go earn it.

I, Eric Bottenhorn, leave my class, integrity, and good looks to my brother Greg.

I, Genny Butler, leave Fort Pond for the rest of LHS to enjoy!

I, Jocelyn Cascio, leave my almost empty book of matches to all up-and-coming arsonists.

I, Nat Clifford, leave big shoes to fill and my clipboard to whoever thinks they're worthy enough.

I, Michelle Coulter, leave finally.

I, Laura Demetrick, leave a star softball pitcher to Mr. Crowley.

I, Kim Doyle, leave my sister behind in this school to suffer doing her community service.

I, Leigh Dungey, leave Jon my wet labs.

I, Jennifer Fuller, leave Mr. Corbett all my pens and pencils.

I, Melissa Grant, leave LHS knowing I accomplished a lot in 4 years!!

I, Colleen Halloran, leave nothing because all for me, none for you, for me.

I, Ken Hamm, leave my sister Debi.

I, Wendy Harding, leave Loan Pham best wishes for an incredible senior year.

I, Misty Julio, leave Littleton High School with shock, and Ben Andrews with 2 years of good luck.

I, Kristen Kenney, leave; so don't bother looking for me.

I, Emily Knee, leave hoping that Abbe gets her license faster than I did.

I, Birgit Kraan, leave nothing because I have nothing.

I, Erik Leavitt, leave to anyone, the monotony of school life with an appreciation for Mr. C's knowledge, Mrs. B's heart, and Mr. Spaulding's enthusiasm.

I, Shawn Maguire, leave my bad grades and car to the class.

I, Josh Mansfield, leave Zak Hirtle Matt's purple fuzzy thing.

I, Nancy Murdock, leave knowing that lots of people have college growth spurts.

I, Jason Pierce, leave Chad and Corey all the luck in the world.

I, Michael Quinn, leave my motorcycle to anyone who can handle the power.

I, Jen Robertson, leave Ralph a phone.

I, Eileen Robinson, leave with too much to say (as usual) & thank everyone for & not enough room to write it.

I, Jen Sawin, leave as much to my peers that has been given to me: NOTHING!

I, Larry P. Shenshaw, leave football injuries.

I, Lisa Swanson, leave my frosting recipe to anyone who wants it.

I, Daniel Tervo, leave all my stories to Mr. McAndrews.

I, Benjamin J. Tracy, leave my "bag of tricks" to Mrs. Clark.

I, Michelle Wetherbee, leave LHS, 2 more Wetherbees to haunt you.

I, Jen Zielinski, leave Shauna Walsh my love for Marine Biology. GOOD LUCK!

I M A G I N E I F . . .
